Horndean Technology College

A Beacon of Educational Innovation with Sisra Analytics and Sisra Observe

The background

Horndean Technology College, nestled in Waterlooville, Hampshire, is a testament to educational excellence and forward-thinking. Spearheaded by Headteacher Julie Summerfield and Deputy Headteacher Nigel Sheppard, the college has embraced the transformative power of Sisra Analytics and Sisra Observe, setting a high bar in the realm of educational technology.

Embracing Sisra Analytics: A Collaborative Triumph

“The Subject Progress index provided by Sisra Analytics is good, and it helps us in all sorts of areas, including performance management,”

Sisra Analytics has been a cornerstone in Horndean Technology College’s journey towards data-driven excellence. Both Mrs. Julie Summerfield and Mr. Nigel Sheppard have played pivotal roles in this evolution. Mr Sheppard’s longstanding collaboration with the Sisra Analytics team, stretching over two decades, has been instrumental in tailoring the solution to the evolving needs of the educational sector.

In her commendation of Sisra Analytics, Mrs Summerfield notes, “The Subject Progress index provided by Sisra Analytics is good, and it helps us in all sorts of areas including performance management,” highlighting the tool’s capability to merge student progress, performance, and pastoral data across various key stages, thus revolutionising the school’s approach to monitoring student achievement.

Sisra Observe: Revolutionising Staff Development

“We’re big users of Sisra Observe, and all staff, including support staff, are on the performance management appraisal system,”

In tandem with Sisra Analytics, Sisra Observe has redefined Horndean Technology College’s staff development strategy. This innovative performance management software has streamlined the appraisal and review process, making it a critical component in the college’s professional development framework. Mrs Summerfield acknowledges its significance, stating, “We’re big users of Sisra Observe, and all staff, including support staff, are on the performance management appraisal system, so that’s something that 250 staff I write the templates for each year.”

The Cumulative Impact on Horndean Technology College

The implementation of Sisra Analytics and Sisra Observe has simplified complex processes and cultivated an ethos of continual growth and improvement. Reflecting on how these systems have been embedded into the school processes, Mrs Summerfield remarks, "The monitoring side of Sisra Observe is really good... the ability to see who is using it, how much they're using it."

Conclusion: A Paradigm of Technological Integration in Education

The narrative of Horndean Technology College, enriched by the insights of Mrs. Julie Summerfield and Mr. Nigel Sheppard, serves as an inspiring example of effective technological integration in the educational domain. Their experience with Sisra Analytics and Sisra Observe demonstrates a deep commitment to harnessing technology for enhancing educational outcomes, setting a benchmark for other institutions in the sector.
